Pine Street, Now and Again (2019)

Dir. Charlotte Zhang

- * Load each channel of the work on one of two screen equipped devices, any combination of phone, laptop, tablet, monitor, projector, or TV, will do. No headphones required.
- * Position your devices so that the screens are facing one another.
- * Place devices at least 5-ft apart — leave enough space to situate yourself between the images. You can sit, if you like. You can lie down if you are tired.
- * Set the volume of both devices to be the same or similar. Recommended volume: as loud as possible without disrupting your neighbours.
- * Darken the room.
- * Press play simultaneously. The work is approximately 19 minutes in-length.
- * Be free to loop.

As part of Images Festival 2020 (April 16–22), we have adapted much of our ON Screen programs to be viewed in the comfort and safety of our audience's homes. We offer these instructions to maximize the experience of the film and welcome you to further adapt upon them, as inspired.
